The Postmaster-General writes to the editor of Aururu's New Home Magazixe of Philadelphia: "As your Magazine gets thicker it gets brighter. I congratulate you on doing what no one else has done in putting out two copies at the price others charge for one—it is half the price of other no better maga-zines." This was written when the price was $1.50, but the circulation has grown so large that we can afford to make it $1, and have made it larger and better at the same time. It has long been said that it was "the best Magazine in the English language for the money," and it is better to day than ever.
